We are happy to present to you the first bi-monthly e- Newsletter 'e-Palaash' of the month October 2019. This month has been of immense importance for the university, faculties and the students. This month a series of events were conducted like cultural events which was full of fun, creativity having multiple benefits for all, social outreach activities to reach out the with helping hands, sports events for young athletes and theme-based seminars which provided a platform for budding managers and engineers to hone their skills. The university celebration includes teachers Day celebration, fresher's Day, Viswakarma puja, Entrepreneur Day, Engineers Day, Alumni Get together and seminar and workshop. The students participated enthusiastically in different activities like poster, painting; model making competition and exhibited their intellects through active participation in these events. Adding further flavor, the university also awarded the student winners of different categories to motivate and inculcate them to succeed in life. We also feel honored to spare quality time with distinguish guest and entrepreneurs who have come from different fields of expertise to shared their knowledge, experience and success journey with the students. Students feel privilege and expressed their gratitude towards industry experts who have guided them and create awareness about current requirement of industry and importance of developing hand on skills. Career Development workshop was conducted with a purpose to prepare the future mangers and makes them industry fit aswellas capable enough to harness the maximum through innovative, entrepreneurial zeal and efficient management of technology.

We extend support to our honorable Vice -chancellor for their constant support in nurture the abilities of young budding managers and support extended to build the competence levels among talented students. As a young ICFAIans, we welcome this opportunity and feel confident that his motivation, will surely give direction to youthful energy of this university, our faith and his dedication towards this endeavor shall help the students in the a bright future.

On the occasion of teacher day, appreciation awards and recognition were given to faculties for their contribution to the organization. We are much indebted to the management for this motivation and recognition.

ICFAI family also bid a heartfelt adieu to our young faculty Prof. Amit Kumar who for further higher education left us this month. We all wish him good luck for his future endeavor. On behalf of ICFAI Community, I am glad to welcome our experienced new faculty members in Science and Law department and we look forward to work with them for taking ICFAI further to new heights of success.
