

Dr. Pallavi Kumari
Associate professor

From the EDITOR

It gives us immense pleasure to present the January 2025 edition of e-Palaash, an exclusive e-Newsletter showcasing the multifaceted dimensions of ICFAI University. This issue is a compilation of exciting events, highlighting the University's engagement with industry, society, economy, values, and ethics.

In this edition, we bring you insightful coverage of workshops, achievements, cultural events, interactive academic sessions, webinars, and much more. As we embrace the winter season, this issue serves as a preview of the exciting journey ahead in the upcoming year.

We understand how much our readers cherish e-Palaash, and it is our privilege to curate content that continues to inspire and engage. This platform serves as a testament to the intellectual and creative contributions of our esteemed faculty members and vibrant students. At ICFAI University, we remain committed to fostering quality education while nurturing a culture of innovation, creativity, and ethical values.

Education today offers multiple pathways to success, and it is our collective efforts that shape the best outcomes. With innovation and novel ideas as the foundation of a bright future, ICFAI University continues to establish its presence under the pedagogic sun. Our commitment extends beyond academics, as we encourage students to excel in sports, speech competitions, contests, cultural events, and extracurricular activities.

A special mention goes to our dedicated Ph.D. scholars, whose scholarly contributions and enthusiasm serve as an inspiration to others. Their relentless pursuit of knowledge exemplifies the spirit of academic excellence that ICFAI University upholds.

We extend our heartfelt congratulations to all contributors for making e-Palaash flourish as a dynamic platform for academic and creative expression.

Happy Reading!

Student Designer
Rajan Kumar Thakur
B.COM 6th semester
Batch 2022-25