Prof. (Dr.) Raman Kr Jha, Vice-Chancellor of ICFAI University Jharkhand, graced FWA's 7th Industry-Academia Annual Conclave as an eminent speaker, emphasizing the vital collaboration between academia and industry. He lauded FWA's efforts in bringing together experts to deliberate on contemporary issues. Prof. Jha stressed the need for universities to embrace innovation and adaptability, steering away from traditional methods.

He urged students to thoughtfully assess their aspirations and align them with their needs, leveraging faculty guidance to carve successful careers. Highlighting the significance of incubation cells, he advocated for identifying job suitability during academic years. While acknowledging the role of online learning, he underscored its limitations in attaining true expertise. Prof. Jha called for introspection to bridge the gap between aspirations and reality, urging students to craft career paths aligned with their skills.
