

It gives us great pleasure to present the November edition of *e-Palaash, the official e-newsletter of ICFAI University Jharkhand. This issue captures the continued momentum of academic excellence, innovative research, industry engagement, cultural vibrancy, and student accomplishments that define the spirit of our University.

November is a month of introspection, gratitude, and renewed purpose—a time to consolidate learning while preparing for future aspirations. In this spirit, ICFAI University Jharkhand remains steadfast in its mission to promote knowledge creation, interdisciplinary collaboration, and ethical leadership, enabling our learners to navigate the complexities of a rapidly evolving world.

This edition highlights noteworthy achievements and initiatives of our students, faculty members, and research scholars across academics, research, sports, cultural activities, community engagement, and professional development. Their commitment, creativity, and perseverance stand as a testament to the University's holistic approach to education and capacity building.

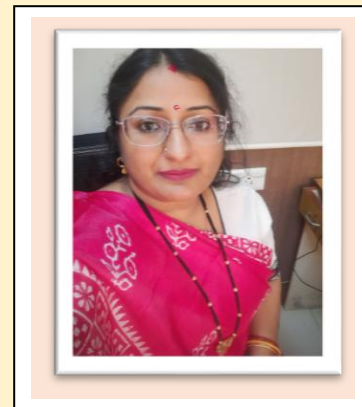

At ICFAI, education is not merely about acquiring knowledge but about shaping character, fostering innovation, and nurturing social responsibility. Through e-Palaash, we strive to showcase these values by celebrating the collective efforts and milestones of our University community.

We extend our sincere appreciation and congratulations to all contributors who have enriched this November edition of e-Palaash with their valuable contributions.

As we move forward, let us continue to learn, collaborate, and inspire one another.

Happy Reading!

— Editor-in-Chief, e-Palaash

Dr. Pallavi Kumari
Associate Professor